By Ken Hightower Google+ Latex Mattress Reviews 5.0 star rating 04/16/16
Hi Ken, I just wanted to tell you how much I absolutely LOVE my new bed. It is so incredibly comfortable. I have even noticed that since I've been sleeping in this bed, I have even many times during the night. Now, I feel like I wake up much less often. My old mattress was a top of the line memory foam mattress that I hated. Every time I rolled over and changed positions in the bed, I'd have to wait for the new spot to conform to my body and I hated the feeling of "sinking" in my bed. The latex is so incredible, not only is it soft but supportive at the same time, but I love the fact that when I roll over, every spot feels the same. My bed also feels the same regardless of the temperature based, memory foam where it felt harder when the room was cold and softer when the room was warm. I love the consistent, wonderful feeling of the latex. Honestly, I cannot thank you enough for providing the latex mattresses at such an affordable price. The assembly was easy, went very smoothly, and was very well worth it. THANK YOU!!!!!!!! Sincerely, Denise Dabney 6/4/2011 1 Check-in Here First to Review We purchased our latex mattress about three months ago. I can honestly say that it is one of the best purchases that we have EVER made! I was a bit skeptical in purchasing a latex bed, but we were reassured that it had many benefits including longevity, lasting comfort, and no more flipping of the mattress. Also the owner, Ken, was great to work with and they make the beds here in Arizona, so we were able to get ours custom made with one side being firmer than the other. Heavenly!!!! I can't say enough good things! If your in the market for purchasing a new bed, not sure what to get, check them out. Great prices. Great customer service. You won't be disappointed. Arizona Premium Mattress rocks! To Whom It May Concern, I just want to take the time to thank you for your product. Back in June I purchased the Queen Adjustable Ultra Plush Latex bed with a 3" topper, and while it has taken some adjusting to, (I did have to exchange my soft topper for a firmer one), I am very pleased with my new mattress. I admit even switching to the firmer topper took some getting used to and I was still waking up with lower back pain so I eventually flipped the bed so the topper is on the bottom and this seems to work best for me. Minus the time it took for my body to adjust to the different sleeping surface, it has been wonderful sleeping on my latex mattress. There is no odor, its is soft yet firm at the same time (I cant really put it into words but it just is ③) and best and most important of all, I sleep more soundly!! I admit I still wake up during the night and have some tossing and turning BUT before your mattress I woke up every hour on the hour, no joke. Now I sleep a solid 3-4 hours before I wake and when I do wake I fall back to sleep much faster. Anyway, all this is to say that I thank you for your time and patience with working with me and just wanted to send my praises in! I also wanted to ask if you have a firmer latex pillow as the ones that came with my purchase are too soft, which is a shame because I really like the pillows. They truly do sleep cooler and that is great. Thank you again! Regards, S. Brannon Save Stay in the know and get all your questions answered. Filter dropdown GENERAL of mattress you choose for a child is extremely important because children grow while they sleep. For safety reasons, crib mattresses are firmer than adult mattresses, and they fit most babies until toddlerhood, though exact timing is different for every child. Like adult mattresses, foam or innerspring crib mattresses both work well depending on preference, and some crib mattresses are lighter for portability or easier to clean in case of spills. Look through our wide selection of crib mattresses to help them transition out of the crib and into their first real bed as they grow along with kids mattresses.

If you have an existing frame, please keep in mind that most manufacturer's warranties have specific requirements regarding support, and you should ensure that your existing frame provides adequate support for your new sleep set to protect your warranty coverage. The height of a mattress is determined by the thickness and quantity of the support and comfort layers are built into the mattress. A pillow top mattress has comfort materials sewn onto the top of the mattress, giving it the appearance of a pillow resting on the surface a more uniform appearance. Most modern mattresses should not be flipped. While older mattress models required periodic flipping, newer mattress models are designed in a way that rotating the mattress head to foot every 6 months will allow for even wear and minimize body impressions. While not all mattress require the use of a box spring, it is important to note that mattress manufacturers have guidelines in place to ensure your mattress is receiving the proper support to prevent damage. We do recommend purchasing a new box spring and bed frame to ensure your mattress has the proper support and to uphold the manufacturer's warranty on the product. A regular-profile box spring is approximately 5" high. Both offer the same support; the only difference is the height they contribute to your sleep set. We have developed a system using colors and symbols to easily identify the comfort level on each product page. Please visit our Mattress would be
