diplomacy, careers, economic development, military campaigns, combat, sports, games, or in the conduct of other business. In most cases, the absence of a well-laid plan can have adverse effects: for example, a non-robust project plan can cost the organization time and money. Informal or ad-hoc plans are created by individuals in all of their pursuits. The most popular ways to describe plans are by their breadth, time frame, and specificity; however, these planning classifications are not independent of one another. For instance, there is a close relationship between the short- and long-term categories and the strategic and operational categories. It is common for less formal plans to be created as abstract ideas, and remain in that form as they are maintained and put to use. More formal plans as used for business and military purposes, while initially created with and as an abstract thought, are likely to be written down, drawn up or otherwise stored in a form that is accessible to multiple people across time and space. This allows more reliable collaboration in the execution of the plan. from Latin plnus flat; compare plane 1, plain 1Plan, project, design, scheme imply a formulated method of doing something. Plan refers to any method of thinking out acts and purposes beforehand: What are your plans for today? A project is a proposed or tentative plan, often elaborate or extensive: an irrigation project. Design suggests art, dexterity, or craft (sometimes evil and selfish) in the elaboration or execution of a plan, and often tends to emphasize the purpose in view: a misunderstanding brought about by design. A scheme is apt to be either a speculative, possibly impracticable, plan, or a selfish or dishonest one: a scheme to swindle someone. Examples have not been reviewed. She makes tweaks when needed, but why make a plan if you are not going to stick with it? Having a clear match day plan of where you are going, what you are likely to do afterwards will also help alleviate stress. Just one match stands in the way of England lifting the trophy and Alex is one of many fans planning how to spend the day so he can handle his nerves. Many we've spoken to say the festival industry is brimming with characters like Mr Kenny, full of big ideas and grand plans. Pubs and music venues will be given protection from noise complaints under planned changes to licensing rules. What is a basic definition ofplan? A plan is a program or method prepared ahead of time, a project or definite purpose, or a design or drawing of something. Plan has several other senses as a noun and a verb. When you come up with a plan, you are creating a method or scheme to do something, make something, or take another kind of action, like a plan for getting your homework done. If someone does something without thinking about what to do, how to do it, and when to do it, and when to do it, they don't have a plan. A plan doesnt have to be written down, though. It may only exist in your mind. A person who comes up with a plan is a planner. Real-life examples: Your school very likely has a plan for everyone leaving the building if there is a fire. Criminals often come up with a plan of how they will steal something and when so that they will know what to do and be able to leave quickly. Used in a sentence: The prisoners needed hot air balloons for their elaborate escape plan. Plan is used in this same sense as a verb to mean to scheme something ahead of time. Used in a sentence: We planned a surprise party for my dad. Plan can also mean a project or definite purpose that someone has thought about or has scheduled to happen. In this sense, it is often used in the plural as plans. Used in a sentence: She couldn't go hiking with us because she had already made plans to travel to California. Plan is also used as a synonym for diagram and blueprint. A plan of a warehouse, for example, will likely include drawings of the buildings layout or an outline of where wiring and pipes are located within the walls. Usually, an architect or designer will know what to do. Used in a sentence: The fire chief got the building plan from the janitor, so he could find the circuit breaker.
